

CALL TO ARTISTS

Project Overview

Public art can be a change agent for the community. It creates and enhances neighborhood and community identity. It enhances the visual landscape and character of the city. It turns ordinary spaces into community landmarks and promotes community dialogue and, most importantly, it is accessible to everyone.

Located on the shore of one of the world's most beautiful lakes, Coeur d'Alene is one of the West's premier four-season destinations for business meetings, leisure travel and special events. Coeur d'Alene is proud of its extensive public art collection, including works from its "ArtCurrents" program.

The Coeur d'Alene "ArtCurrents" program consists of sculptures on loan from artists residing in the Pacific Northwest. Artists submit applications for placement of their sculptures in the Coeur d'Alene downtown area and Riverstone area for a period of one year. Applications must include photographs of the submitted work taken from the front and back viewpoints. From the submissions, a committee will select the pieces to be installed. The one year period will run from the beginning of October through the end of September of the following year.

Throughout the year Coeur d'Alene has major events that attract thousands of locals and visitors. With over 250,000 people attending these events and visiting Coeur d'Alene, many potential buyers will be viewing the art.

The Artwork

The minimum size of the artwork must be 36" tall or larger and must be designed and fabricated for long-term outdoor durability and ease of maintenance, including potential vandalism. We look forward to artistic interpretation and creativity in this call.

Budget and Payment Schedule

The artists selected will be paid a stipend of $1,000.00 after receipt of the artwork. The artist will be responsible for transporting the artwork to and from its present location and for any costs associated with the transport of the artwork. Temporary plaques with the name of the art piece and purchase information will be included with each installation. The displayed art pieces will also be offered for sale with the City of Coeur d'Alene receiving a 25% commission from the sale. Pieces that are purchased by individuals or businesses and then donated back to the city will be relocated to an appropriate permanent location within the city limits.

ArtCurrents Selection Process

Responses to this "Call to Artists" will be evaluated by a selection committee consisting of members of the Arts Commission, a councilmember, a member of the Downtown Association, and other members as determined by the Arts Commission. Selection criteria to be used for consideration shall include, but not be limited to the following: Artistic quality, context, compatibility with a site, materials' suitability and safety, possible contribution to the City's public art collection, public safety, environmental impact, media, diversity, feasibility, and duplication.

Submissions should include two or more digital images taken from front and back viewpoints, and installation requirements. The selection panel will select various pieces that will be submitted to the Arts Commission for approval. Before the selected art work can be placed, a contract for artist/galleries must be completed and signed, which constitutes the entire contract between the artist and/or gallery submitting the artwork.
